

Adobe Creative Cloud

Introducing Adobe Creative Cloud desktop apps for government.

Adobe Creative Cloud desktop apps allow agency workers to use the latest, most powerful tools to easily create and share engaging content for a wide variety of citizen and stakeholder tasks. Quickly publish rich content for print, web, and video—including interactive, mobile, and 3D designs—while delivering a superior user experience across all channels. Your agency’s creative team receives ongoing access to the latest creative applications without sacrificing the security or deployment control that your agency needs. Creative Cloud applications reside behind the firewall and run locally from the desktop, without connecting to the Internet.

Benefits of Creative Cloud desktop apps

- Deployment and update control—Maintain complete control over which apps and versions are packaged and deployed in your environment.
- No Internet connection required—Once you have activated and packaged Creative Cloud desktop apps according to your agency's needs, no Internet connection is required to deploy or use the applications, and no server-based license validation is required during use.
- Customized configuration options—Preconfigure end-user access with Adobe Creative Cloud Packager. Choose 32-bit or 64-bit deployment on Windows machines.
- Ongoing access to creative apps—Get creative apps as soon as they're released, plus expert support.
