"...tablets and PCs have come together to create a powerful... system... that combines, without compromise, the virtues of tablets, notebooks and desktops.

For most users, this system not only meets their requirements, but also extends their capabilities, contributing to greater productivity and increased satisfaction." -TBR

2-in-1: ideal for mobile workers who...

Must leave a traditional office to be effective

Run standard "Office" productivity programs

Run specialized, task-specific programs

May need additional resources or devices such as cameras, bar code scanners, signature pads, or credit card swipe capability

Want to work anywhere, carry fewer devices and have access to social and personal media

Mobile workers include:

- Insurance adjusters
- Building and home inspectors
- Field sales and services personnel
- Child Protective Services agents
- In-home medical service providers
- Physicians
- Shop-floor manufacturing workers
- Shipping & logistics professionals
- Field-based researchers
- Interior designers
- Point-of-sale retailers
