Step 1: Discovery
It all begins with inventory. Either by leveraging your existing network management investments or by deploying one of several network discovery options, Softchoice collects, organizes and presents a digestible overview of your network from top to bottom.
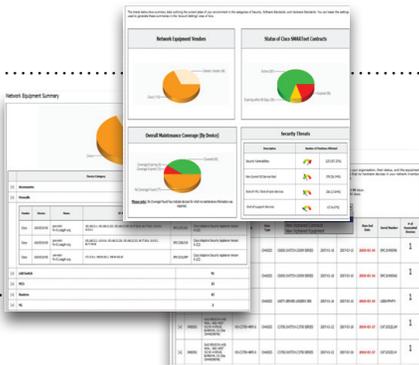

Step 2: Analysis & issue identification
Next we uncover the status of your maintenance coverage, the lifecycle of network devices and any other equipment and configuration issues. We focus on the areas that require attention without subjecting you to "analysis paralysis." With Softchoice Axis, our online IT Asset Management portal, understanding the complexities of your network has never been easier.

Step 3: Recommend and act
Once we identify the issues affecting your network, the next step is to act on the findings. Whether you want to do this yourself, or you're looking for help from an on-site resource, Softchoice can help. From easing maintenance management, charting equipment replacement strategies or optimizing your network, Softchoice can design, deliver and even deploy the right solution for you.
